Who We Are

Cultivate — a homeschool family campus in Central Florida

Cultivate is a new kind of community space for homeschool families in Central Florida. Built around a teen life skills and enrichment program, Cultivate is designed to serve the whole family under one roof: teens in The Glade, young children in The Sprout Space childcare center, and parents in The Grove co-working lounge.

At the center of it all is The Harvest Café — a community gathering spot that connects every part of the campus. It's where people linger, meet, and feel at home. And it's where we believe Foxtail belongs.

The Opportunity

A captive, loyal, values-aligned audience

Foxtail has built something rare in Florida: a local coffee brand with genuine community credibility and a loyal following that actively chooses it over national chains. Cultivate's audience is exactly the kind of community Foxtail resonates with — thoughtful, independent, locally-rooted families who care about quality and authenticity.

The Numbers

- Daily on-site presence of homeschool families, teens, and remote-working parents
  - Multi-hour dwell times — parents working in The Grove, teens in The Glade all day
  - Events and co-op rentals in The Commons bringing additional community traffic
  - A membership model that builds habitual, recurring visits
  - A demographic that is highly word-of-mouth driven — the homeschool community talks

What We're Proposing

A branded outpost with a community twist

We are interested in exploring a licensed Foxtail outpost or branded partnership within The Harvest Café — bringing Foxtail's coffee quality and brand to our campus while preserving the community-first, teen-centered spirit of the space.

What This Could Look Like

- A Foxtail-branded coffee bar within The Harvest Café serving Foxtail's core menu
- Teens from The Glade trained and employed as baristas through Foxtail's program
- Foxtail branding integrated alongside Cultivate's Harvest Café identity
- Complementary food offerings (pastries, snacks) provided by Cultivate teens
- Co-branded community presence at campus events and The Commons programming

The Teen Employment Angle

One of the most compelling aspects of this partnership is the potential for a teen employment pipeline. Teens at Cultivate are actively building life and vocational skills. Foxtail barista training — with its emphasis on craft, customer service, and professionalism — aligns perfectly with what we're building. Teens who train through Foxtail at Cultivate leave with a real credential and a genuine employment pathway. This is a story worth telling. It's exactly the kind of community impact both brands could be proud of.

What We're Asking For

A conversation, not a commitment

This document is an invitation to explore, not a formal proposal. We would love to sit down with the Foxtail team to discuss whether there's a partnership structure that works for both sides — operationally, financially, and culturally.

We believe great coffee and a great community make each other better. We'd love to find out if you agree.

Questions We'd Love to Explore Together

- Does Foxtail have a licensed outpost or partnership program?
- What are minimum volume or operational requirements for a partnership location?
- Is there appetite for a teen employment or training component?
- What does a co-branding arrangement typically look like for Foxtail?
